The range that makes baking a pleasure

IN summer, the gas range is a favorite. A cool kitchen makes the work seem lighter. Gas is quick, easily regulated and economical when used for short periods.

For slower baking and cooking, many women prefer the coal range. On chilly days, its genial warmth is welcome. The entire family appreciates having hot water in liberal quantity.

Newport Combination Coal and Gas Range

gives the advantages of both ranges at the cost of one. There are many new and handy features to this up-to-date range. Your dealer will be glad to show and explain them to you.

ESOPUS MOUNTAIN TRAGEDY RECALLED

Seydell, Who Killed Clement Demaron Near West Park in 1910 and Was Acquitted, Pays a Visit to Kingston.

Kingston had a visitor on Tuesday whose coming recalled one of the most tragic events in the history of the county. He was Louis Victor Seydell, the New York brother, who had a cottage at West Park, in the town of Esopus, and who on the 24th day of July, 1910, shot and killed Clement Demaron at a time when Demaron invaded his premises on the mountainside, and as Seydell believed, was attempting to kill him with a heavy rock with which he threatened him. For this he was indicted by the grand jury for murder in the first degree. He was prosecuted by William D. Cunningham, then district attorney, and defended by Judge Clearwater and Senator Linscott. The indictment was tried before Judge Randall J. LeBoeuf, the trial beginning on the 12th day of December, 1910, continuing through the entire week, being summed up late on Saturday afternoon. The jury after being out several hours, returned a verdict of not guilty, which was received by the large crowd that never left the court room, with cheers and applause that the court made no attempt to rebuke.

Seydell was imprisoned in the county jail in charge of Sheriff Henry J. Hoffman and Seth Jocelyn, jailer, from the day of Demaron's death until the day of his acquittal, no attempt being made to release him on bail. His wife with her two children abandoned their home in New York, came to Kingston and lived here during that time, where Mrs. Seydell made many friends among the best people of the place. Seydell had bought a piece of land on the mountain side, had built there a bungalow and planted among the rocks the rare wild flowers of the neighborhood. Demaron, who was building a bungalow further up the mountain side, during Seydell's absence from home drove up past Seydell's place with a load of lumber. As the road was rough, and the grade steep, he unloaded part of the lumber, throwing it on Seydell's land, crushing the wild flowers. On his second trip up the mountain Seydell remonstrated with him, whereupon Demaron, after cursing him in Italian, picked up a huge stone and threatened to kill him. Demaron was accompanied by a party of Italians, the situation was lonely. Seydell believed himself and his family in danger, and ran into the house, picking up an old navy revolver with which he ran out and ordered Demaron from his premises.

Demaron not only refused to go, but advanced toward Seydell with the rock in his hand, cursing in Italian, and as Seydell understood, threatened to kill him. Whereupon in his trepidation Seydell discharged the revolver. The bullet passed through Demaron's heart and he dropped dead in his tracks. The case excited the greatest interest in New York, in the Hudson river valley, of course in Kingston and in Ulster county. District Attorney Cunningham, fully convinced that the killing was deliberate and without justification, prosecuted with the utmost earnestness. Judge Clearwater's summing up for Seydell was regarded as one of the most remarkable addresses he ever delivered, here or elsewhere. Seydell is now engaged in business in Grand Rapids, Michigan. He moved there immediately after his acquittal. He, his wife and his daughter, who at the time of his trial was a child, and who is now a junior at Wellesley College, passed Tuesday calling upon their many friends and acquaintances in Kingston. They say they never can forget the thousand and one kindnesses shown to them by the people of Kingston during the agonizing months that intervened between Demaron's death and Seydell's acquittal.

NEW SERIES OPENS
In Home-Seekers' Cooperative Savings and Loan Association.
The Home-Seekers' Cooperative Savings and Loan Association of the city of Kingston, N. Y., will open its 25th series of shares on Monday, August 2. Indications are that the new series will be even larger than the one opened in February and that one was much larger than any previous series.

Cooperative savings and loan associations exist for two purposes. First, as a medium for saving money, and second to furnish funds to its members for the purchase or building of homes. The strong feature of these institutions as a medium for saving money is the interest regularly accumulating on deposits, and the money is loaned to members who are not ready to cash in. If a member can furnish one-quarter of the purchase price of a property he wishes to buy or build, the association will loan him the other three-quarters and the loan will be extinguished in twelve years or less by monthly payments about equal to the rental value of the property. The value of the property for the purpose of such loan being fixed by the association's appraisers.

A person who wishes to acquire a home, but lacks the necessary one-quarter of the purchase price, can even accumulate the amount by subscribing for shares in the association. Cooperative savings and loan associations are subject to the same regulation and supervision by the state banking department as savings banks and about all their funds are invested in first mortgages on dwelling properties. They are purely cooperative, all profits being returned to the members in the form of dividends, except a small percentage which is retained as a guarantee fund, and all members, whether owners or borrowers, receive the same rate of dividends on their shares.

Europe's Potato Crop.
In Europe potatoes are grown of different kinds for different purposes. Certain varieties are raised for eating and others for starch making and distilling. Over there they have a so-called "stock potato," which is used for human food at all. It is a large and coarse of texture and is utilized for feeding cattle. The yield to the acre is twice the ordinary, the tubers being exceedingly rich in starch are great almost products.

"WHY CHANGE YOUR WIFE?"
 A Paramount Picture
 By William Demille

WHERE was the girl he married? Where the love? The glamour, the romantic sweet heart hours?
 Fed into dull dish matrimony.
 Was he whole in blame when another woman, active with the art of love, slipped into the place in his life which his wife had left vacant? WAS HE?
 A total estimate of the eternal problem of love and marriage. Treated in all the best color and technique. Beauty that distinguishes DeMille's "Male and Female" and "Don't Change Your Wife."

CHILD WELFARE CLINIC THURSDAY

Are you a mother with a baby or little children in your home? Are the little ones well and growing in weight, size and strength as they should? Or are they thin, and weak and cross and maybe sick? And did you mothers know that every Thursday afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock, there is a clinic at the city hall, which is called a "Child Welfare Clinic," and to which you may take your little one, quite free of charge, and learn from an experienced nurse and doctor, both women, just what you should do in order that baby or Mary or Tommy might be just the healthiest and best child possible? Miss Florence McEntee is the nurse at the clinic and Dr. Dederer the physician, and the state department of health has thought it sufficiently important that our babies should be properly cared for, to arrange that these clinics may be held each week during July and August—just the worst months for baby—without expense to the mothers.

There you will learn how to feed the baby or children the best kind of food for each one of them, and may thus be able to save the baby especially from summer sickness which so often ends in death for wee babies.

Any children under school age may be taken to the clinic.

And if you are an expectant mother, and will go to this clinic, you will be told many, many things which will be good for you, and will help you to have a well and perfect baby. Why not go to the city hall this coming Thursday afternoon and see what it is like, at all events.

It can do you no harm, may do you much good, may even save your or your child's life.

It is a well known fact that whenever base ball players, boxers, etc., are presented with gifts on the field, in the ring, or elsewhere, by admiring friends "Old Man Jack" usually attaches himself to the honored athlete. Not so with Babe Ruth. The Colossus of Swat was presented with a diamond studded watch (oh, by admiring members of the Pro Patria League of the Knights of Columbus, just before a recent game at the Polo Grounds, and immediately proceeded to hang out his twenty-fifth home run of the season. The photograph shows Ruth holding the gift.

The following are excerpts from a recent letter written by Homer D. Biery, President of the HOMER D. BIERY LUMBER COMPANY:

Franklin, Pa., June 16th, 1920.

Frederick Upham Adams, President,
 Wall Street Publicity, Inc.,
 280 Broadway, New York City.

Dear Sir:—

In answer to your letter of June 16th, asking for specific information concerning the record, present condition and development plans of the Homer D. Biery Lumber Company, I reply as follows:

We now own or lease approximately 20,000 acres of valuable timber lands in Pennsylvania. We have under option or are in a position to purchase approximately 180,000 additional acres of very valuable timber lands in North Carolina, West Virginia, Arkansas, and smaller holdings in other states. We purpose to add to these holdings from time to time. Instead of confining our operations mainly to the production of ties, mining timber and pit posts, we are extending our operations to cover fully the field of manufactured lumber for building and general purposes, and this branch of the business will receive the same careful executive attention which has brought success in these other branches of the lumber trade.

On the completion of the present financing, two large additional mills will be installed, one with a daily capacity of 75,000 feet and the other with a daily capacity of 125,000 feet. These mills will be erected on favored sites in West Virginia and North Carolina and will be electrically equipped throughout.

Based on past business of the company, our net earnings now approximate $25,000 a year, or about ten times the dividend requirements of the present outstanding preferred stock. We are confident that the investment of the new capital will enable us to derive annually a revenue which will more than maintain the ratio of our present earnings.

You are authorized to use my name in any way in confirmation of the statements contained in this letter.

Yours very truly,

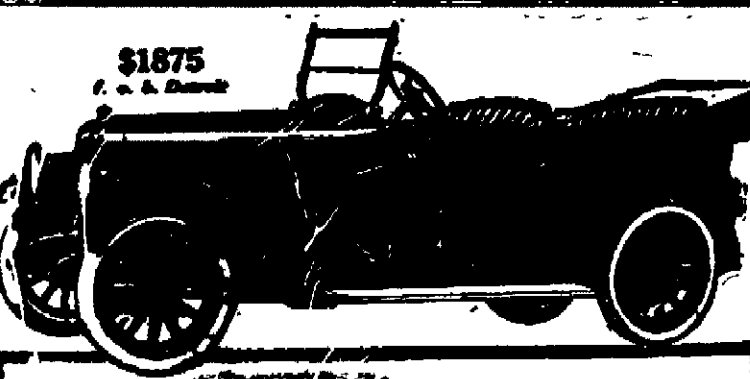

HOMER D. BIERY LUMBER COMPANY.

(Signed) HOMER D. BIERY, President.

In Fast Twilight League Game Tuesday Evening by Score of 3 to 0—This Evening Y. M. C. A. Plays Elm A. C. at McVey's Field—Swint Held F. & D. to Two Hits.

Pitching a masterly game Swint, the only southpaw so far developed in the Twilight League, allowed the F. & D. team but two hits, and the Tigers whitewashed the rival boys by a score of 3 to 0 in one of the fastest games of the season Tuesday evening at Forsyth Park.

The first two frames proved non-productive for either team, but in the third the Tigers showed the three tallies that won the game across the plate. That was the only scoring done during the game. The score Tuesday:

The use of the flying boat was called upon by former Governor Martin H. Glynn, owner of the Albany Times-Union, when he wished to dispatch a message via the Poughkeepsie Eagle-News to Franklin D. Roosevelt. Mr. Glynn called upon Pilot Beckwith, Havens to take the message to the Eagle-News to be delivered to Mr. Roosevelt. The Curtiss machine, with Havens at the wheel, left Albany at 1 o'clock and the message was checked in at the Eagle office an hour later. Mr. Havens stated that he realized the value of the message and made the best time possible under the atmospheric conditions which prevailed Monday afternoon.

Kingstons as an Ancient City.

Kingstons is one of the four largest towns of China. Technically it is not a city. It is a town, because it has no wall. In reality it is a busy commercial city, with a population of 300,000. Two-thirds of the people are directly engaged in the manufacture and sale of porcelain and pottery. Historically it dates back to the Han dynasty, 200 A. D. It is during this period that we find the first records of the production of porcelain in China, though earthenware vessels were probably produced some centuries earlier.

GETS WHISKEY THAT IS WHISKEY

John J. McCabe Receives Ten Barrels of Liquor That Had Been In Storage Since 1915—Having Permit, Revenue Agent O. K.'s Misgivings.

John J. McCabe of 294 Wall street Tuesday received ten barrels of whiskey owned by him and which had been in bond at the Fleischmann's distillery at Peekskill since 1915. He now has a permit from the United States internal revenue department to sell liquor to others who have a permit.

The whiskey was brought by one of the big auto trucks of Doyle's express company, which Mr. McCabe engaged to do the hauling as there is an embargo on receiving freight over a certain weight by the railroads. As storage rates at the bonded warehouse had been raised and Mr. McCabe had orders for a quantity of the liquor from parties holding the permits he had his property brought from Peekskill to his building on Wall street.

A telephone message from Poughkeepsie to Fred Russell of this city, an internal revenue agent, informed him of the coming of the truckload of whiskey and he met the truck at the Rhinecliff ferry, examined the permit and as it was according to the law allowed the truck driver to proceed. Other holders of permits in this city receive consignments of whiskey for medical and proprietary uses from time to time.

Put Remittance Before You.

Theories in history and science with an foundation of fact may be blamed on some of the older historians. The new era first wrote of Colonial and Revolutionary times directed to make their accounts convincing and persuasive by reciting history to suit themselves, because they did not want the real facts were more realistic than their own inventions could make them. Our historians, writers, poetry and traditions are still influenced by their work.
